

Return to Index on Home Page

PART III

THE NATURE OF THE INTERVAL

BETWEEN LIFE AND RESURRECTION

THE GATHERING OF THE SAINTS

The "last day," in this life of each believer becomes, like the last day of every other believer, the Last Day which marks the coming of the Lord to receive us unto Himself.

Thus these "last days" are all kaleidoscoped into a single event as each one of us passes out of Time into Eternity, together marking that one and the same Great Day of the Lord.

It is the great gathering which makes death for the departing saint not a separation but a reunion — a reunion with his resurrected body and a reunion with all the other saints, past, present, and future!

☞ PROCEED

